INTERLACHEN 1992

Florida Southern College Lakeland, Florida 33802 I sure wish someone would fake a drowning so I could take a swim. Jake Bast enjoys getting a tan, while protecting FSC swimmers.

Like any educated person, Shawn Samberg tries to stay abreast of current world events.

I've been waiting out here for hours. Where can they be? Jerrie Milner sits outside the caf waiting for friends.

"Child of the Sun"

Light of the World

Frank Lloyd Wright was the genius behind the "Child of the Sun." His ideas and creativity have been an inspiration in the lives of all who have crossed the Florida Southern College campus. However, it is the refreshing life and vigor that the students bring to the campus each year that adds bright, new meaning to the campus and the "Child of the Sun." It is to these very special students that this annual is dedicated.

I dare you to hit the ball over here. Donna is ready for anything, as she joins in intramural softball.

Honest, I didn't do it. Cindy wonders just how long you have to smile for one of these cameras.

You know, I'm not quite sure what everyone is lookin' at. Mark and Todd look into the camera for the answer.

Convo is great! Susie Stringfellow exhibits her sorority spirit by wearing her jersey to the first Convocation of the Everyone talks too fast, but they do have good ice-cream. Misa and Shiori enjoy some of the perks of being FSC boarding students.

After long hours of studying in the Student Center, students can take a break and watch a little television.

Beside my dresser or on my window sill? Junior Advisor Renee Cook tries to decide where to place her new friend.

Peek-a-boo! Elizabeth Jago and Allison Arnold head upstairs for a scrumptious dinner in the caf.

Hey, Dad! I told you everything was great at college. Jeff Alleborn socializes with friends Lori Mencarelli and Melissa Mercado, at a Pike picnic.

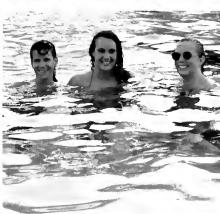

The sun was great, but we're ready for some nice cool showers, now. Deana and Lara head back to their dorms after a taxing day at the pool.

Two scoops or three? Decisions, decisions. Lisa Kasza helps herself to all the fixings for a banana split, complements of SUB.

If I have to write this paper, I might as well do it in a nice setting. Michael Powell works diligently, to the musical sound of fountains, in front of the Roux Library.

One little, two little, three little mermaids... Cooling off after a long day of classes.

Hey, she's cute. Go talk to her, man. Burt Grimm, Everett Baber, and Shannon Beckett find that SUB study breaks are a great place to unwind.

I'm too full to move. Two FSC students kick back and relax in the shade outside the caf.

"And then Moses said to Pharaoh..." Chaplain Standley and Dean Wade swap stories, while they wait for the first Convocation processional to begin.

Are you sure this is you? Deana Hartman is anxious to eat lunch, as she shows a cafeteria worker her I.D.

Golgi apparatus and endoplasmic reticulum are the worst! Heidi Deck studies on a Lake Hollingsworth dock.

Ooops! I think this shrank. Even guys have to learn to do their laundry at college.

Hi darlings, just taking a short break before getting back to work. The cafeteria workers rest for a moment in order to prepare for the evening rush.

You put your right hand in. You pull your right hand out. You do the hokey-pokey... The FSC soccer team huddles during a game.

Hey, Debbie, what happened? Did you fall down the stairs?

Ready? All together now... one, two, three smile. Holly Chiappone, Bernadette Greene, and Colleen Gray take a break in the Hindu Garden.

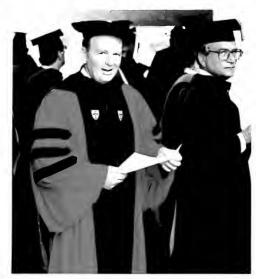

"Orange groves o'er spread her campus..." Dr. Anderson gets into the Convo mood by singing the college song.

New Horizons

Light and Knowledge

College-life is a succession of changes. From morning until night, students are learning and growing, as well as setting and reaching goals. And while the changes will never end, the friendships and knowledge gained at FSC will always remind each student of the light shed abroad in the "Child of the Sun."

Ahh, perfect. Judy molds a masterpiece in sculpting class.

Maybe I should have gone to the deli line. Michelle Morton has second thoughts, while eating her meal.

Actually the view is not that bad from here. David ${\bf Mcmaster}\ looks$ across the FSC campus at dusk.

Juliet! Juliet! It's me, Romeo!

Is it a bird, a plane, Dean Wade on his bike? Whatever they're watching, it seems to have the full attention of Allison Arnold, Amy Stroyan, Claudia Wasserbauer, and Professor Snodgrass.

I am sooo thirsty. FSC students get a taste of "the real thing."

Administrative Officers & Staff

A dedicated administration is the key to any successful institution. The Florida Southern administrative officers and staff are just that. Even with all of the responsibilities of running a college, the FSC administration and staff still take time to interact with the students. The personal relationships between these important individuals and the students make Florida Southern more than just a place to learn.

Florida Southern College Chaplain Meredith R. Standley credits the college's success and high standings to the "clear focus and dynamic purpose of the leadership of President Robert A. Davis."

Many well-known individuals have visited Florida Southern College. Here, President Davis gives Winston Churchill III a tour of the beautiful campus.

President Davis talks with David Gergen, editorat-large of "U.S. News and World Report," before the October 1991 Convocation.

Dean Moran, Dean Wade, and President Davis converse during "O-Week."

President Robert A. Davis

Florida Southern College is proud to have Robert A. Davis as the college's fifteenth president. President Davis joined the FSC administration in 1976 after his election by the College Board of Trustees.

Dr. Davis is an honor graduate of the University of Georgia. He also holds degrees from Emory University and Yale University, in addition to two honorary degrees. His other accomplishments include being named in Who's Who in America and Who's Who in the World. Dr. Davis is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Beta Gamma Sigma, and Omicron Delta Kappa. Dr. Davis was also the President of the National Association of Schools and Colleges of the United Methodist Church.

Dr. Davis' other achievements have included leadership positions in numerous state and national educational associations. Florida Southern College has benefited greatly during the last sixteen years, with President Robert A. Davis as its outstanding leader.

Notables

Florida Southern College recognizes students with exemplary leadership and academic attributes, by offering to them the privilege of membership in national honorary organizations.

For many students their abilities come to recognition through involvement in various college competitions, including Mr. and Miss Interlachen, Miss Greek, and the James C. Rogers and Miss Southern awards. One student is also selected each year as the Florida Southern College Honor Walk Student. We are very proud of these students for their involvement and the achievements that they have made.

Trent Davis found time to serve as a Resident Advisor and justice on the Judicial Review Board, while studying at FSC. Here, he takes a break at the Cafe. Many students make notable additions to the campus through participation in extra-curricular activities.

Florida Southern College expands leadership qualities and teaches people how to get along better and to cooperate in order to achieve a desired goal or outcome.

---Dawn Mura

We may be freshmen, but we're still notable! Student Government Senator Kris Fessel and International Student Association Vice President Candice Nelson worked to make 1991-92 a memorable year.

Omicron Delta Kappa

o Omicron Delta Kappa is recognized as the top national leadership honor society in America for college men and women. To be considered for membership a student must be of exemplary character, rank in the upper 35% in scholarship (above a 3.0 grade point average), and have a record of significant responsible leadership. The Florida Southern Circle was established in 1951 and has been involved in campus activities ever since. ODK at Florida Southern College was recognized as the outstanding Circle in 1984, 1986 and 1988.

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma is a national college scholastic honor society for freshmen. All freshmen who earn a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or above at the end of their first semester or second semester are eligible for membership. Chapters engage in many activities designed to recognize and promote high scholarship among freshmen. Inductions are held twice a year and membership is for life.

Miss Southern Heather Doreen Benedict of Lake Placid, Florida, was crowned the 55th

Miss Southern on February 18, 1992, succeeding Alicia Victoria Wiggins. She was chosen out of 13 candidates. Sponsored by the Student Government Association, she has served the organization as president, Junior Class president, and Sophomore Class president. Heather also served as vice president of Omicron Delta Kappa, Order of Omega president, and as a representative for the Association of Women Students.

She was vice president of membership in her sorority, Kappa Delta, as well as Philanthropy Chairperson and Pledge Class vice president. Heather's Greek activities also include Panhellenic Council president and Scholarship Chairman, as well as Lambda Chi Alpha Chapter Sweetheart and A.M. Class Sweetheart.

Heather is listed in "Who's Who" and received the Outstanding Sophomore of the Year award. She has been a member of the Student Affairs, Orientation, and Founders' Week Committees, as well as serving as a Junior Advisor and Miss Molly.

Shae is a Communications major from Winter Haven, Florida. Her campus honors and activities include: Omicron Delta Kappa; Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities; FSC Best Actress Award 1990-91; President's Scholar; Editor, INTERLACHEN 1991-92; and Associate Editor, THE SOUTHERN 1991-92.

Other extra curricular activities include: Member Founder's Week Committee, Poetry Day Committee, and Senior Class Project Committee; Big Buddy; Miss Molly; and Communications Club.

In addition, Shae spent time in Quebec, Canada studying French and served as French Club President.

Departments & Organizations

Every student in college goes through a personal transition in his or her life--choosing a major. When it comes down to choosing what they want to do with the rest of their lives, some people are confused, while others have it all planned out.

Fortunately, FSC offers a variety of organizations for students to participate in. These organizations allow students to broaden their outlooks through their own or through someone else's experiences. They also help the students see if their majors really suit them now and more importantly in the future.

All in all, FSC has some great organizations to choose from. Whether they are traditional or non-traditional, they offer students a valuable taste of the opportunities that are available to them.

James Boschulte studies plant life. Hands-on experience gives students added knowledge in their field of study.

'Life is what you make of it. You have to go straight ahead and never look back.' Kimberly Thornton shares a quote from the FSC production of Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap."

Blowing bubbles creates fond memories and brings the child out in all of us, especially education majors.

Art

The Art Department at Florida Southern College provides a number of opportunities for students who want to pursue an interest in art. Courses in art history and studio art are available as electives. There are three concentrations for the art major: studio, art communications, and art education.

Monthly exhibits by significant artists are featured in the Melvin Art Gallery and one or more field trips to museums or art exhibits are scheduled each semester.

Biology

Students in the Biology Department have interests as broad as the discipline of biology itself. Their interests range from study and research in molecular biology to coral reef biology in Jamaica. A number of students have taken the opportunity to extend their research in cooperative programs at medical schools and in field areas, including the Florida Keys. Chemistry & Physics

The Chemistry and Physics Department sets high goals for itself every year, and achieves them through hard work and dedication. Along with hard work, there is also time for fun activities. Everyone has heard of the Haunted Lab, right? The creative people who scare FSC students each Halloween are from the American Chemical Society. This is an annual event, which is very popular on campus.

The clubs that students can participate in include American Chemical Society, Physical Chemical Club, Students for the Exploration and Development of Space, and the Society of Physics Students. Although students in these clubs keep busy throughout the year learning more about their majors, they still manage to have fun on planned trips, including visits to the Kennedy Space Center, to watch space shuttle launches.

Communications

The Communications Department at Florida Southern is a very active and energetic department. With three emphases to choose frompublic relations, journalism and advertising-students enjoy a wide variety of career choices. A well-rounded knowledge in the liberal arts tradition is the focus of the department.

Many non-communications majors take courses in the Communications Department as elective or supportive requirements. These students often find that they enjoy the hands-on approach of the department. Some of the more popular courses include: Basic Photography, Public Relations, Interpersonal Communications, and Advertising.

The library offers an array of resources from which one may receive information. Students are often sent there by teachers to look up a word in the Oxford English Dictionary, or to analyze an article in a recent magazine.

The library staff is helpful and frequently comes to the aid of students who need help finding research materials, as well as change for the copy machine.

The Department of Music offers academic programs in performance, music education, and sacred music.

The Music Department is responsible for providing seven different concerts in the Festival of Arts series, including the well-loved Christmas Gala. In addition, special music is provided for convocations, theatre productions, chapel services, and other prestigious events in the life of the college. There are over fifty music majors in the department. Organizations include Delta Omicron, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, international honorary music fraternities, and Music Educators National Conference.

Mathematics

The Mathematics Department at Florida Southern College prepares students for the future in the areas of education, business, and computer science. The department also acts as a service department by preparing students for careers in Business and Research. Recently, it has also become the responsibility of the math department to prepare students for the CLAST examination. This department also sponsors an honorary society called Kappa Mu Epsilon, a nationwide group representing excellence in mathematics.

Nursing

The Nursing Department at Florida Southern College is structured within the evening degree program. This department offers professional registered nurses the opportunity to build on their associate degrees and earn bachelor degrees in nursing. In existence since 1978, over four hundred nurses have graduated from the Lakeland and Orlando campus programs.

"Let's see. We can give that to you in pill form or as a shot." Nurses like Pam Nierman have to have a lot of patience.

Physical Education

The Physical Education and Recreation Department offers its majors a state accredited program in physical education for grades 6-12. For those majors who do not wish to pursue teaching, the department offers a recreation concentration for careers in both public and commercial recreation. In a joint venture with the Business and Economics Department, this department also offers a sports management major for careers in a variety of sport-related businesses.

Psychology

The Psychology Department provides a strong background in the major approaches to psychological issues with courses ranging from clinical psychology to psychology as a social science, as well as courses in research methods. Along with visits and internships in area mental health facilities, this curriculum provides students with the necessary skills and understanding to enter a diversity of graduate programs and pursue careers in psychology.

R. O. T. C.

R.O.T.C. was established in 1916 when Congress passed the National Defense Act. Florida Southern has had an outstanding program since 1951. A great deal has changed in the forty years FSC has offered this program; It is no longer mandatory for male students and it is now open to females. In addition to the classes that can be taken, cadets can also be involved in such extra-curricular activities as Rangers and Ranger Challenge. Each year the Moccasin Battalion sponsors a 5k race around Lake Hollingsworth.

R.O.T.C. members go through intense training in order to move up the ranks.

Sociology & Criminology

The Sociology and Criminolgy Department is involved in a variety of activities on campus and in the community, including family studies, gerontology, criminal justice agency practices, homelessness, Habitat for Humanity and more. The department offers courses that are of social relevance to non-majors and community internships. The Criminology and Sociology Club hosts a speaker's function and an annual moot trial, when local lawyers argue cases and actual judges preside.

House Mothers

The House Mothers of Florida Southern College are very important to the campus. Otherwise known as "Mom," each house mother is close with her "adult children" and takes care of the maintenance repairs in her dorm. The House Mothers are there for the students, who usually need some guidance and comfort.

Florida Southern College is proud of its dorm moms. We could not do it without you and we love you all.

Two smiles are better than one! You can always count on a friendly smile from your House Mother.

Housekeeping & Grounds

The Housekeeping and Grounds department has set very high standards for itself in keeping all student and administrative areas clean and comfortable. They take great pride in the Florida Southern grounds and plan on maintaining their high quality work.

Deep appreciation goes to this department that helps to maintain the beauty that Frank Lloyd Wright imagined for his "Child of the Sun."

Cafeteria & College Terrace

The cafeteria at Florida Southern is a well-known part of the campus. Students can look forward to the wonderful steak and shrimp dinner on Saturday, as well as the other tasty delights served throughout the week. A favorite for many students is Ice-Cream Night.

The College Terrace is the place where students can still any craving, after cafe hours. From great hamburgers and french fries to a bagel and cream cheese, the C.T. has it all for those late night hunger cravings that just can't be assuaged by a pizza.

Bonnie Haberman and April Dantzman take a study break in the C.T., before a test.

Down the hatch. Students spend time in the cafe to eat a home cooked meal and to socialize with close friends.

"I'll have a steak, medium well, and a baked potato, please." The cafe is a great place to get together and chat with friends.

Greeks

Rituals and Relationships

Greek life at Florida Southern is demanding yet rewarding. Greeks stay busy with various activities including chapter meetings, socials, bonding, formals, rush, and ritual. They also compete in intramurals, raise funds for their philanthropies, and make friendships with brothers or sisters that will last a lifetime. The Greek system at Florida Southern includes seven fraternities and six sororities, each with its own special rituals and relationships. The Greeks exhibit pride in their organizations and are an active part of Florida Southern campus life.

Guy Petrone loves to be a Greek and even more than that he loves being a Lambda Chi Alpha brother.

Being involved with the Greeks has helped me meet more people and become involved on campus.

With a talented group returning, and an impressive cast of newcomers, the outlook for 1992, was a bright one. Returning to the mound and behind home plate, were Candy Carrico and Andrea Fellner. The newcomers were experienced in both infield and outfield positions, so depth was no problem for the Lady Mocs this season. The 1992 schedule included not only the Sunshine State Conference, but also a doubleheader with the University of South Florida and South Carolina-Spartanburg.

The golf team of 1992 faced a challenge that had never been conquered by a Division II golf team in the history of the NCAA. Only seven times has a team won two National Championships in a row and never has a team had a 3rd Championship come their way. This year, four of the 1991 Golf Team members returned to play. Their goal was to qualify for the National Championships and to be successful in representing Florida Southern in the fashion they richly deserve.

In 1991 the Lady Mocs maintained a 21-5 record and earned a National Ranking of fourth place. In 1992 the team had a great nucleus with six returning players from the previous spring and their schedule included a trip to California where they received more national recognition.

Student Life

Life on the Florida Southern campus encompasses activities offering community and student services. While the Student Government Association serves as a liaison between students and administration/faculty, the Student Union Board coordinates events like canoe trips, study breaks, and performances by special guests.

The opportunities to experience FSC's student life are great with sorority, dorm, and commuter representatives in the Association of Women Students, Circle K offering community service, religious life supporting spiritual growth and fellowship, and international aspects integrating American and foreign students into the FSC program. At FSC student life is full!

The Student Government Association (SGA) coordinates the various subsidiaries of student government to enhance a cooperative working relationship among the college administration, the faculty, and the student body. The goal of SGA is to bring valid student suggestions to the attention of the college administration and effectively pursue a course of action, for example environmental awareness and security have been instilled through the SGA sponsored campuswide recycling program and the Student Escort Service.

STUDENT AMBASSADORS

The Student Ambassadors were created for the purpose of giving prospective students guided tours of FSC's beautiful Frank Lloyd Wright campus. Selected by Admissions and faculty, these students serve as a voice for the FSC community, welcoming guest speakers and other important visitors to the college. Celebrating only their second year on campus, the student ambassadors are a welcomed addition to our college.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural sports are exciting and competitive facets of the Florida Southern experience. Great for staying fit or just plain having fun, Intramurals allow fraternity, sorority, and independent teams to compete in a variety of different sports. The Intramural sports program is on the uprise in campus popularity and is certainly an exciting aspect of college life at FSC.

Senior Class "Children of the Sun"

Just hearing the word "senior" makes this year's graduating class shine. This one word encompasses much meaning for four-year college students. The World Book Dictionary lists several definitions for that awesome word:

Senior -

1) an older person

2) a person of higher rank or longer service

3) a student who is a member of the graduating class...of a college

Thus, Florida Southern Seniors are the eldest students on campus, maintaining higher rank due to longer service, as members of the 1992 Graduating Class. They will look at Florida Southern not only as a place of learning, but as their Alma Mater, as well.

Between studying and serving in Operation Desert Storm, Chuck Pons remained busy while attending Florida Southern. His involvement in the Gulf crisis inspired many students on campus.

Through my years at FSC, I've been involved in many organizations. Being active and taking part in school is the best experience you can get out of college.

Junior Class Rays of Success

As we look back on our junior year at Florida Southern College, we are assailed with memories of late night study breaks at "Wags," weekend excursions to local places of interest, professors and administrators who took the time to care, and friendships that will last a lifetime. As third year veterans, we consider Florida Southern to be our home away from home. Here we have worked, played and struggled to achieve. Our junior year has been a busy time that has proved our worth as able Florida Southern students, as well as strong individuals.

Sophomores return to Florida Southern unified by old friendships. They are no longer separate points of light, but friends who have bonded together, through the trials and tribulations of being college students.

Surrounded by friends and familiar places, they can achieve success, while enjoying the full Florida Southern College experience. As sophomores, they are now able to look toward the bright future and the many options that are available to them. Due to the strong friendships sophomores have acquired, they are able to look within and discover themselves.

"According to the Bill of Rights..." While leaning against a looming Oak tree, Alan Seaver does some last minute studying.

The features of Florida Southern College are distinguished through the beauty of the campus and the cooperative attitudes of the faculty and students.

Freshman Class Stars of Tomorrow

The 1991 Florida Southern College freshmen courageously tackled their first week away from home. Ready to broaden their horizons, they prepared themselves for the new experience of college classes. The freshmen were loaded down with books and schedules, as they headed into the scorching sun to begin their new lives as FSC students. Besides going to classes, the freshmen made friends. Sections became close and familiar, as Junior and Resident Advisors strived to make everyone feel comfortable in their new surroundings. After a few short weeks, it seemed as if they had always attended Florida Southern College. This year's freshmen were made for FSC!

Look, Ma! No hands. Russell Mc Mullan skates his way through his freshman year at Florida Southern.

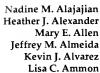

My freshman year seemed very scary at first, but I found there was nothing to be afraid of. Everyone was very friendly and the teachers were extremely helpful.

Robin Musgrove, Carrie Cremeans, Ashley Reese and Kelly Charron are all smiles!
